

In The News

Pass a law to conserve northern boreal

Keeping billions of tonnes of carbon stored

Ontario's largest conservation organizations, lead by Wildlands League, strongly support the passage of the Far North Act and call on all MPPs to vote for the bill on 3rd reading.

We support Bill 191 because it requires community plans to precede development, ensuring that the conservation of cultural and ecological values is pursued in equal measure and in conjunction with economic development.

Read the full release.

And in the Toronto Star editorial, September 19, 2010, "the legislation now provides for a comprehensive land planning regime that would give industry certainty about the rules, provide tools for environmental protection and, most importantly, give First Nations communities far more power than they currently have to control development of their traditional lands."

Read the "Balance in far north bill"

Canadian premiere of "Third World Canada" at the ROM, September 30

Explore the third world conditions challenging many First Nation's children. Through intimate testimonies, 'Third World Canada' reveals an impoverished First Nations community and its struggles to care for eight children left behind by their parents' suicides. A catalyst for wholesale rethinking, this film has the power to sow the seeds of reconciliation and renewal and engage with every day Canadians.

On September 30th at the Royal Ontario Museum, join the filmmaker, film participants and partners for the screening and panel discussion on reconciliation. This film will raise funds for Aboriginal children living in remote Northwestern communities in Ontario.

View trailer
More information
Tickets

Did You Know?

Dare to be Deep is coming to Toronto this November! Celebrating the Gwaii Haanas National Marine Conservation Area in British Columbia, this event will encompass spectacular visual displays coupled with a strong conservation message to help educate and gather support for Marine Protected Areas across the country. Stay tuned for more details!

